

Features & Benefits of Arboriculture Canada Training & Education Programs

Arboriculture Canada has been in business since 1999, providing specialized, simple solutions to training needs across Canada.

Our customers normally come to us with several concerns:

- Little time to invest in training
- Limited budgets
- Due diligence & risk management requirements
- Require specialized training that covers specific areas of concern
- Need training that in-house trainers are not qualified to perform

Our training provides solutions to these concerns by providing:

- World's largest team of certified, expert instructors, which means that we bring experience and expertise to your organization to ensure you have the best instructors possible. These instructors have been qualified and tested to ensure that you are getting the best training value for your dollar.
- Customized programming for your training needs, which ensures that your staff receives only the training they need in the areas where they need it most - saving your organization valuable time and money.
- Hand's on training allows the participants to practice the skills they are learning. The learning environment is real, easy to learn in and fun!
- On-site training at your business location saves travel, food and lodging costs for each attendee.
- One day to multi day options are designed and delivered. This allows your training to fit within your budget and your staff to receive post-secondary quality education and real life training without the inconvenience and cost of going back to school.
- Skills testing and certification documents and third party assesses that your staff have demonstrated the ability to perform high risk tasks safely. This is important to fully comply with all aspects of due diligence regarding high risk work activities.
